

Honours and Postgraduate Scholarships

CSIRO 2011

The Honours and Postgraduate Scholarship Program provides opportunities in science and engineering for outstanding graduates who enrol each year at Australian tertiary institutions.

Each year, the Program supports honours and postgraduate scholarships for students to work on a project relevant to one of several priority research areas. Students are co-supervised by researchers in an Australian university and CSIRO. In 2011 the Program will support a number of new Honours Scholarships and PhD Scholarships.

Honours Scholarships are available to students enrolled full-time in an eligible Australian Higher Education Institution during the term of the scholarship and who hold (or expect to gain) a degree from a recognised University and expect to undertake an Honours year.

Top-up PhD Scholarships are available to PhD students who have gained (or expect to gain), first class honours or equivalent in relevant research areas. Students must also expect to receive an Australian Postgraduate Award (APA) or equivalent scholarship commencing in the year of the CSIRO scholarship. Full scholarships are also available in certain circumstances.

Applications open
1 October 2010 and close on 30 November 2010

How to apply

In 2011 several priority research areas will be accepting applications.

These opportunities will be advertised on CSIRO's website in October and November.

Details of the application process and requirements for submitting your application will be included in each advertisement.

Full detail on priority areas and links to application forms, are available at www.csiro.au/Postgraduate-Scholarships